The Most Stressful Jobs

Recently, my nine-year-old son proudly announced¹ to me that he wanted to become a commercial airline pilot when he grows up. I'm happy for him because he spends hours reading books about airplanes, and he loves to play airplane game apps. It's great to know what career you want at such a young age. As well, the average annual² salary for an airline pilot is quite good: US$105,270. Also, being an airline pilot means that you might travel to many exotic³ locations around the world, places that most people might never get a chance to see. However, I wonder if his choice of career is one that I should encourage⁴. You see, this morning I googled “most stressful jobs” and I discovered that my son's dream career is actually the third most stressful job on a list of top ten most stressful jobs. This makes sense⁵ because as a pilot you are responsible for⁶ the lives of hundreds of people, you are away from home for many days at a time, and you may have to fly through many different time zones⁷ which can be very difficult to adjust to⁸. Number one on the list was “military personnel” (soldier) and number two was “firefighter”. Of course, jobs like these are very dangerous – you must put your life in danger almost daily. Interestingly, however, “taxi driver” was also on the list (at number ten).

Activity N° 3

How Much Do You Understand? - Write 'T' (True) or 'F' (False) next to each statement.

1. _____ The main idea of the article is how to choose a good job.
2. _____ You can make more than $100,000 per month as a pilot.
3. _____ The article says that exotic countries are dangerous.
4. _____ The article suggests it might be stressful to be away from your home.
5. _____ The article says it's more stressful to be a soldier than a pilot.
6. _____ The article says driving a taxi can be interesting.
